

PRIVACY POLICY

Gary Holpin Photography is committed to preserving the privacy of all visitors to www.garyholpin.co.uk and all of our customers. Please read the following Privacy Policy to understand how we use and protect the information that you provide to us. We may revise this Privacy Policy at any time so you should check this page from time to time to see the current Privacy Policy.

Information that we may collect from you

When you use our services or website you may submit information to us through our contact forms or other means. We may collect your:

Name (for identification)

Address (for invoicing)

Email address (to send updates of future offers etc)

Telephone number (in case of difficulty contacting you)

This information is all necessary to enable us to offer you our services. We do not hold any financial data or payment details.

Use of your information

We will hold your information securely and use it only in compliance with the applicable current data protection laws. We will use your information to provide you with the products and any information that you have requested.

Email Marketing

Your data is stored and used on a private network and may be used to contact you about our services. We may gather statistics around email opening and clicks using industry standard technologies to help us monitor and improve our communications.

Website

When someone visits www.garyholpin.co.uk we use a third party service, Google Analytics, to collect standard internet log information and details of visitor behaviour patterns. We do this to find out things such as the number of visitors to the various parts of the site. This information is only processed in a way which does not identify anyone. We do not make, and do not allow Google to make, any attempt to find out the identities of those visiting our website.

Cookies

Cookies are small files that web sites can send to your computer, which can enhance your experience of a website by, for example, remembering who you are and what you are interested in. This website only uses session cookies. Session cookies do not collect any personal information about you such as your name or address and are not stored on your hard drive once you leave this website. Our session cookies track information about your current session on the website, so that you don't have to re-type information. If you wish, you are able to reject or disable cookies by adjusting your browser settings, however, this may adversely affect your experience of using this website. If you are not sure how to do this, then the Help Files on your browser should assist, or alternatively, visit www.allaboutcookies.org for more information about cookies including instructions on disabling cookies.

Disclosure of your information

Unless required to do so by law, we will never share any of the information you provide to us without your consent.

Security and data retention

We employ security measures to protect your information from access by unauthorised persons and against unlawful processing, accidental loss, destruction and damage. We will retain your information securely and indefinitely. Any newsletters we send will give you the option to unsubscribe from future mailings.

Accessing and updating

Under GDPR guidelines, you are entitled to see the information held about you and you may ask us to make any necessary changes to ensure that it is accurate and kept up to date. You can also request that your data is deleted from our records. If you wish to do this, please contact gary@garyholpin.co.uk
